

Table of Contents

EGO-HISTOIRE?

Living Memory and Historical Practise. A Personal Tale (2001)	7
1.1 Mastered History? Irritations about the suggested format and authorship of 'ego histoire'	9
1.2 About the Involuntary in my Historical Practise. Personal Reflections.....	13
Diversity and eclecticism / Beyond oeuvre / Hidden agenda?
1.3 Memory and History Conceptual intervention	36
1.4 In Search of Textures lost From the historian's laboratory for recollections.....	41
Construction and legendary / The composition of narratives / Images and contexts

THE COMMUNICATIVE MEMORY..... 55

2.1 Intervening into Memory (2004).....	57
2.2 Oral History as a Channel of Communication between Workers and Historians (1982).....	63
2.3 Traces of Memory Leading Back into the 1950s (1987).....	77
2.4 Zeroing in on Change. In Search of Popular Experience in Industrial Milieus of the GDR (1988)	110
2.5 Where Were You on 17 June? A Niche in Memory (1990).....	169

VARIETIES OF IDENTITY AND MEMORY..... 191

3.1 The Infancy of Tarzan. Is Collective Identity indifferent? (2001)	193
3.2 A European Identity? (2002).....
3.3 Maurice Halbwachs: Memory and the Feeling of Identity (2000)	226

A CASE OF COMPENSATION	243
4.1 From Nazi Forced Labor to „Remembrance, Responsibility, and Furture“ (2007).....	245
4.2 How to Address the Injustices of the Nazi Era from an Historical Perspective (1999).....	323
4.3 From Wrongs to Rights? (2001)	335
COMPARATIVE REFLEXIONS	351
5.1 Reconstruction and Disintegration: The German Labor Movement between War and Cold War (1979)	353
5.2 The Mythological Potential of the Soviet Special Camps (1945-1950) in Germany in the Cold War and since (2009)	370
Divided Legacy / Transnational Research Cooperative / The Historians' Intervention and it's Limits
5.3 The German “Sonderweg” after Unification (1992).....	384
POSTHISTOIRE?	405
6.1 Afterthoughts on Posthistoire (1989).....	407
6.2 On Katja Strunz's Object Visionary Fragment (for Antoine Augustin Cournot), 2003	429
POST SCRIPTUM	433